About Seminar

Science is still to be explored, there are still the mysteries to be unfolded and phenomenon are still to be understood. Indian science has a great potential to achieve and meet the challenges thrown up in the national and the international arena. While maintaining competitiveness, there is a need to cast the future roadmap of science and technology considering the new challenges, opportunities and threats the future is likely to hold. The theme of FUTURE INDIA – Science and Technology will provide platform to researchers, academicians and industry champions to share their findings with the scholars eager to dig scientific findings and also to instigate budding science and technology enthusiasts. Their findings and innovations will play a vital role in environmental protection and sustainable development. There is a need for conservation of Biodiversity, protection of wetlands and prevention of environmental pollution, promotion of ecological balance enables sustainable development. This conference is a small step towards this goal.

Themes of Seminar

- Inclination of Modern Science towards environmental protection and sustainable development
- Technologies for retardation of pollution
- Non conventional energy source
- Green Chemistry
- Ecofriendly materials and its uses
- Biodegradable materials and polymers
- Future fuel
- Science & Technology in Biodiversity Assessment
- Conservation strategies under vulnerable conditions for sustainable development
- Potential uses of flora and fauna and understanding molecular diversity for the same.
- Ecosystem services and development
- Causes, consequences and ethics of biodiversity
- Biodiversity for food and agriculture

About the Organisers

Indian Science Congress Association (ISCA) is the first science congress of India established in 1914. One of the major objectives of the ISCA is to inculcate the scientific temper among the people and to encourage young scientists to grow up steadily. Baroda Chapter is actively engaged to fulfil this aim of ISCA by organising various scientific activities.

The Department of Botany, a front ranking division under the umbrella of The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, is actively engaged in teaching and research in both classical and cutting edge technology on various aspects of Plant Sciences. The Department has contributed immensely in Plant Taxonomy, Plant Anatomy, Plant Ecology, Mycology & Plant Pathology, Phytochemistry, Remote Sensing Technology, Plant Tissue Culture for the conservation and sustainable utilization of the plants and other plant resources of India.

The Bahauddin Science College, Junagadh: Bahauddin College, Junagadh is more than a hundred year old college (117 years) with great tradition of generating quality students and having learned faculty right from the outset. Vazir of Sorath state Shri Bahauddinbhai was a great visionary who contributed to the construction of the building. Vazir Bahauddinbhai played a vital role in the establishment of this college. There was no such educational institute other than in Bombay and Karachi at that time. The building is unique. The college officially started in 1901. College has big semi-green campus.

The original Bahauddin College consisted of arts and science faculties. From the very beginning the college has science stream with BIOLOGY, MATHEMATICS, and PHILOSOPHICAL SCIENCE as main subjects. Right from the beginning college has privilege to have very scholar and eminent faculties like Dr. A. R. Rao foudler Director of VSVSC, Prof. Kapadiya, Prof. Bharucha, Prof. Naronha, Prof. H. S. Joshi etc. College is highly reputed for producing quality students in the various field. Alumni of the college like scientists, doctors, professors, industrialist etc are present all over the world. Till today the academic atmosphere remain intact. All most all faculties have research out comes. Few projects, patent and awards are in to the account of this college. The college was accredited by NAAC scoring grade B++ (81%).
